

COREISUS

BIO

We revolutionized music in the early 2000s only to be kidnapped by the elite music bots before the turn of the decade.

We've influenced many artists over the past half century. Many have sought after this collection of music at great peril to their own lives.

Finally, we escape our torment and find it easier than ever to redistribute our music to the masses.

We will now resume our role as social idols.